

PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATION IN EMBROIDERY

BERKELEY
TRAINING & EDUCATIONAL
CONSULTANCY LLC

COURSE DESCRIPTION

At Berkeley Consulting WLL, Doha, State of Qatar, Professional Qualification in Embroidery is an intensive, vocationally oriented programme that transforms creative interest into professional capability. Grounded in traditional stitchcraft and extended with contemporary design practice, the course teaches students how to conceive, execute and present high quality hand embroidered work suitable for fashion, interiors, art installations and bespoke commissions.

We believe mastery comes from deliberate practice plus reflective design thinking. Classes combine step-by-step technical coaching with progressive projects that increase in complexity. Emphasis is placed on understanding fibres and fabrics, colour theory, and motif development so students can adapt techniques to different briefs from heritage restoration to modern couture embellishment

COURSE CONTENT

- INTRODUCTION TO EMBROIDERY
- THE ESSENTIAL STITCH LIBRARY 21 STITCHES
- 5 FLORAL TECHNIQUES
- 5 LEAF TECHNIQUES
- FINAL PROJECT : GARMENT EMBELLISHMENT

DURATION

(12 sessions) 3 months
(2hrs each, 24hrs total)

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR

- Beginners who have little or no prior experience and wish to learn embroidery from scratch.
- Craft enthusiasts who enjoy hands-on, creative projects and want to explore a relaxing, artistic hobby.
- Fashion and design students looking to enhance their skills in decorative stitching and fabric embellishment.
- Home décor lovers interested in adding a personal, handmade touch to household items such as cushions, table linens, or wall art.
- Sewing and tailoring learners who want to expand their skills beyond basic stitching and garment making.
- Anyone seeking a mindful, creative outlet that combines patience, artistry, and craftsmanship.

ORIENTATION ON THE COURSE

Introduction to embroidery

- understand embroidery tools, materials and hoop setup
- learn threading, knotting and fabric handling

THE ESSENTIAL STITCH LIBRARY

1. running stitch
2. back stitch
3. stem stitch
4. split stitch
5. chain stitch
6. outline stitch
7. whipped backstitch
8. feather stitch
9. bullion knot
10. herringbone stitch
11. blanket stitch
12. fly stitch
13. lazy daisy stitch
14. satin stitch
15. long and short stitch
16. fishbone stitch
17. cross stitch
18. woven wheel
19. seed stitch

LEAF FILLING TECHNIQUES TYPES

LEARN VARIOUS LEAF TEXTURES

FLOWER FILLING AND COMBINATION WORK:

combine different stitches to create

FLORAL PATTERNS:

combine different stitches to create

FINAL PROJECT : GARMENT EMBELLISHMENT

Apply all learned stitch and techniques in one complete design

PROJECT MOTIF :

design a complete neck/sleeve embroidery motif

color planning and finishing techniques

combine outline, filling and decorative stitches

EVALUATION:

neatness, stitch variety, color harmony, creativity and finishing

OVERVIEW

By the end of the course, participants will confidently master a wide range of traditional and contemporary embroidery techniques, applying them creatively to fashion, décor, and artistic projects. They will be able to design, compose, and execute professional quality embroidered pieces while developing an impressive portfolio that reflects both skill and originality. Graduates will earn a recognized qualification, empowering them to pursue careers or entrepreneurial ventures in the fashion and textile industry.

Through guided practice and expert instruction, you'll learn a wide range of embroidery techniques, color combinations, and fabric applications from the simplest stitches to intricate motifs used in haute couture and bespoke designs.

WHY BERKELEY

We realize that choosing the right qualification course and where to study can be a challenge, which is why Berkeley's offers everything you'll need to make the right decision on your future.

We deliver high quality programs with recognized awarding bodies all over the world, in a wide range of academic courses. Many students are choosing to study locally with us because of our excellent teaching, modern learning facilities and convenience