

FROM SCRATCH SERIES

FASHION DESIGN FOR KIDS

BERKELEY
TRAINING & EDUCATIONAL
CONSULTANCY LLC

COURSE DESCRIPTION

At Berkeley Consulting WLL, Doha, State of Qatar, we're thrilled to introduce an exciting new training series, From Scratch: Fashion Design for Kids, focused on empowering young designers with the skills and creativity to bring their fashion ideas to life.

This course is perfect for young beginners seeking a fun and engaging foundation in fashion design. From understanding basic design principles and sketching outfits to learning about colors, fabrics, and construction, we'll cover everything kids need to know to start designing their own clothing from scratch.

Through hands-on projects, interactive demonstrations, and inspiring examples, kids will gain practical experience that translates into creative confidence and design skills. By the end of the series, they'll have created unique pieces and gained an understanding of the design process, empowering them to explore their creativity in fashion.

COURSE CONTENT

Skirt Making

Scrunchie

Pants Making

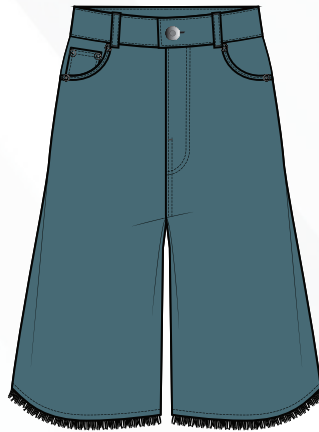

Tote Bag

OVERVIEW

The objective of the From Scratch: Fashion Design for Kids series is to introduce young learners to the world of fashion design, equipping them with skills to start creating their own designs confidently.

This program is designed for kids at the beginner level, offering a structured, age-appropriate curriculum that builds knowledge progressively in an engaging and supportive environment.

By the end of the series, young designers will have a foundational understanding of fashion design, along with a portfolio of their creations, inspiring them to continue exploring their talents in the world of fashion.

WHY BERKELEY

We realize that choosing the right qualification course and where to study can be a challenge, which is why Berkeley's offers everything you'll need to make the right decision on your future.

We deliver high quality programs with recognized awarding bodies all over the world, in a wide range of academic courses. Many students are choosing to study locally with us because of our excellent teaching, modern learning facilities and convenience